1. Program

In addition to the GEBCO meetings in Monaco, the IHO/IAG Advisory Board on the Law of the Sea (ABLOS) will also meet during the first week in October. Attendees at the ABLOS Conference will be invited to come one day early and also attend the GEBCO Science Day; GEBCO attendees will be invited to attend the ABLOS Conference Day one at no cost. Should a GEBCO attendee wish to attend the other days of the ABLOS Conference, they would have to register and pay to attend the ABLOS Conference.

The formal meeting Program is planned as listed below, in chronological order, However not all participants will need, or will be encouraged, to attend for the whole of that period. For non-committee and non-subcommittee members, if you are interested in attending any of the meetings, please inform the relevant chairman of your interest. Names of Chairmen and Working Group leaders can be found on the GEBCO web site. The Science day is open to all. Please note that this year the Guiding Committee will not meet in open session although some key non-GC members and official observers will be invited to attend.

There are two venues for the GEBCO and ABLOS meetings. The Salle du Ponant (Address : 2 ave d'Ostende, 98000 MONACO) and the International Hydrographic Bureau (Address : 4 quai Antoine 1er, B.P. 445, MC 98011 MONACO CEDEX, Telephone: +377 93 10 81 00.

2. Passports and visas

Anyone wishing to enter into Principality of Monaco is required to pass through French territory. Those wishing to enter into and stay in Principality of Monaco must hold a valid passport, or travel document, bearing the stamps, visas and authorisations enabling them to enter and stay in France, in particular in the department of the Maritime Alps. Visa applications are to be made at the French Consulate or Embassy in their place of residence or any other signatory country of the Schengen agreement.

Although the Principality of Monaco is an independent and Sovereign State, the border may be crossed without any formality.

All GEBCO participants should check, well before they travel, whether they will need a visa to enter Principality of Monaco. It is strongly recommended that you apply well in advance for your visa.

If you need a letter of invitation to support your visa application please contact David Clark, GEBCO Permanent Secretary, at the address above.

In principle all visitors must be able to show that they hold a return ticket.

4. Meeting Registration

It is very important that you register your attendance to the meeting with the GEBCO Permanent Secretary, David Clark at the address above. Please send your name, institution, email address and the dates you will attend. This information is necessary to plan the agenda and logistics for the meeting.

5. Local information

Principality of Monaco is a sovereign city state, located on the French Riviera in Western Europe. Located on the Mediterranean Sea, Monaco is surrounded by France on three sides. Nice, France, is the nearest large city at a distance of 11 miles (18 kilometers). Monaco is rocky and situated on steep hills that drop off into the Mediterranean. Part of the Côte d'Azur, Monaco's terrain and geography are typical of the northwestern area of the Mediterranean. It has an area of 1.98 km² (0.76 sq mi), and a population of 35,986, making Monaco the second smallest and the most densely populated country in the world. The official language is French, although Italian and English are widely spoken.

Monaco is divided into four neighborhoods: Monaco-Ville, the old original city, which is on a rocky promontory extending into the sea; La Condamine, along the port; Monte-Carlo, the main resort, residential and tourist area; and Fontvieille, a newly constructed area on land reclaimed from the sea.

Monaco has a warm-summer Mediterranean climate which is influenced by the oceanic climate and the humid subtropical climate. Situated in the heart of Mediterranean Europe, the Principality of Monaco enjoys a particularly mild climate, with more than 300 days of sunshine per year. One of the loveliest times to be in Monaco is September - October. With temperatures in the 60s to 70s, people are still sun tanning on the beach until mid-October.

I look forward to seeing you in Monaco!

Best regards,

David Clark
GEBCO Permanent Secretary
